

A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE A FUTURE OF INNOVATION

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
School of Law[™]
ENERGY LAW PROGRAM

GIANTS IN THE FIELD

A low-angle, upward-looking photograph of a wooden oil pumpjack tower. The structure is made of light-colored wood with a complex lattice of beams and cross-braces. It rises diagonally from the bottom right towards the top left of the frame. The background is a solid, clear blue sky. The overall composition is clean and modern, emphasizing the scale and structure of the industrial equipment.

The Energy Law Program at Texas Tech
University School of Law is built on a tradition of excellence.

The Energy Law Program was founded in 1969 by renowned Professor Richard W. Hemingway, author of several seminal texts on oil-and-gas law and a pioneer in teaching energy law. Hemingway served as the Texas editor of The American Oil and Gas Reporter and authored The Law of Oil and Gas.

Professor Owen Anderson is now a Professor and Distinguished Oil and Gas Scholar for the Kay Bailey Hutchison Center for Energy Law and Business at the University of Texas School of Law. He is also the Eugene Kuntz Chair Emeritus and the George Lynn Cross Research Professor Emeritus at the University of Oklahoma College of Law, but he was instrumental in shaping our Energy Law Program as the Jack F. Maddox Professor of Law from 1988 to 1992. Professor Anderson is co-author of International Petroleum Transactions, Hemingway Oil and Gas Law and Taxation, and Cases and Materials on Oil & Gas Law.

Following in Professor Hemingway's footsteps and serving with Professor Anderson during his brief tenure was Professor Bruce M. Kramer, co-author of several important books that have become the definitive references for energy lawyers: The Law of Pooling and Unitization, The Law of Oil and Gas: Cases and Materials, and Williams & Meyers, Oil and Gas Law (since 1996). Professor Kramer taught at Texas Tech University School of Law from 1974 to 2007 and continues to hold the title of Maddox Professor of Law Emeritus.

Professor William Keffer joined the Texas Tech University School of Law faculty in 2014, after thirty years of practice in the oil-and-gas business with ARCO, Gardere Wynne Sewell LLP, and his own office in the specialty practice of oilfield-pollution litigation, as well as having served two terms in the Texas legislature. Appointed in 2012, he also serves as a member of the Texas delegation to the Interstate Oil and Gas Compact Commission. Professor Keffer's emphasis on practice and increasing students' awareness of, and exposure to, the oil-and-gas industry has greatly contributed to the growth and development of the Energy Law Program at the law school. Our objective is to make Texas Tech the premier law school in this area of practice.

FOCUSED FACULTY

Texas Tech Law is proud to announce Rodrick E. Wetsel as the newest member of the Energy Law faculty. Wetsel is Partner at Wetsel, Carmichael, and Allen and is board certified in Oil, Gas and Mineral Law. He is the co-author of Wind Law (LexisNexis Matthew Bender 2015) and also serves on the Texas Title Standards Joint Editorial Board of the State Bar of Texas.

Courses: Wind Law, Texas Mineral Titles

Stephen Black, J.D., LL.M.

Professor of Law

Courses: Transactional Practice, Energy Law

Recent scholarship published in the Georgia State University Law Review and the top-100 journal Akron Law Review

Served as principal shareholder in a boutique tax firm and represented clients before the Internal Revenue Service and state tax agencies

William R. Keffer, J.D.

Professor of Practice; Director, Energy Law Programs

Courses: Oil & Gas Law I and II, Legislative Process, Oil & Gas Lease Negotiation

Contributing columnist to SHALE Magazine

Experienced Dallas-based practitioner; served as in-house litigation-management counsel for environmental safety and health at ARCO Oil and Gas Company; and focused exclusively on oilfield-pollution litigation for Gardere Wynne Sewell LLP in Dallas

Served in the Texas legislature from 2003–2007 as state representative from District 107

Serves on the Interstate Oil and Gas Compact Commission and as a neutral for the American Arbitration Association

M. Alexander Pearl, J.D.

Professor of Law; Director, Center for Water Law and Policy

Courses: Water Law, Advanced Water Law

Scholarship involving Texas groundwater and property rights in extracting groundwater from over-drafted aquifers published in the Environmental Law Journal

Clerked for the Honorable William J. Holloway, Jr. of the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit and worked as a litigation associate with Kilpatrick Townsend in Washington, D.C.

Tracy Hresko Pearl, M.Sc., J.D.

Professor of Law

Course: Environmental Law

Clerked for the Honorable Stephanie K. Seymour of the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit and the Honorable Richard L. Williams of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, and worked as a litigation associate with Hogan Lovells in Washington, D.C.

Jorge A. Ramirez, J.D.

Walter and Anne Huffman Professor of Law

Courses: NAFTA, Admiralty and Maritime Law, International Business Transactions, Human Rights, and Public International Law

Participating Editor of the Baltic Journal of Law & Politics (Vytautas Magnus University in Kaunas, Lithuania)

Experienced international lecturer, having taught dozens of law courses and seminars in Bolivia, China, Costa Rica, Paraguay, Lithuania, and Mexico

Don R. Richards, J.D. '84

Adjunct Professor of Law; Partner, Richards, Elder & Gibson PLLC

Course: Texas Administrative Practice

Board Certified in Administrative Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization

Represents more than 40 local-exchange telephone companies and electric-utility cooperatives before the Texas legislature and the Public Utility Commission of Texas, and is General Counsel to the National Telecommunication Cooperative Association in Washington, D.C.

Served as general counsel to the Texas Exchange Carrier Association and as past chairman of the Public Utility Section of the State Bar of Texas

Brie D. Sherwin, M.S., J.D. '01, Ph.D.

Professor of Law; Director, Dual Degree Programs and Concentrations

Course: Environmental Health Sciences

Scholarship involving trade-secret protection sought for the composition of hydraulic-fracturing fluid in the top-100 Ohio State Law Journal, and coal-ash waste in the Stanford Environmental Law Journal

Worked as an associate at one of the largest toxic-tort litigation firms in the country, representing individuals and communities affected by environmental contamination, and practiced environmental law at the Dallas office of Gardere Wynne Sewell LLP

Victoria V. Sutton, M.P.A., J.D., Ph.D.

Paul Whitfield Horn Professor; Associate Dean for Digital Learning and Graduate Studies; Director, Law and Science Certificate Program

Courses: Cybersecurity Law & Policy, Emerging Technologies
Environmental-law scholarship published in the top-100 American Journal of Law & Medicine

Served in the President George H. W. Bush

Administration as Assistant Director in the White House Science Office and in the EPA, and in the George W. Bush Administration as Chief Counsel of the Research and Innovative Technology Administration in the Department of Transportation

Gary R. Terrell, J.D. '77

Adjunct Professor of Law; Partner, Key, Terrell & Seger, LLP (Retired)

Course: Texas Land Titles

Practiced real-estate law, corporate law, probate law, commercial law, and commercial litigation with Key, Terrell & Seger, LLP in Lubbock

Former advisory board member for Texas Tech University's Department of Natural Resources Management

Roderick E. Wetsel

Adjunct Professor of Law; Partner, Wetsel, Carmichael & Allen, LLP

Courses: Wind Law, Texas Mineral Titles

Board Certified in Oil, Gas and Mineral Law

Co-Author – Wind Law (LexisNexis Matthew Bender 2015); Texas Business & Commercial Fundamentals of Wind Leasing Transactions (LexisNexis Matthew Bender 2015)

Serves on the Texas Title Standards Joint Editorial Board of the State Bar of Texas

OTHER FACULTY IN THE ENERGY LAW PROGRAM

Richard W. Murphy, M.F.A., J.D.

AT&T Professor of Law

Course: Administrative Law

John L. Watts, J.D.

Professor of Law

Course: Agricultural Law

STRONG CURRICULUM

The background of the page is a photograph of an energy museum exhibit. It features three large vertical panels with circular inset images showing various industrial scenes like oil rigs, refineries, and workers. A digital kiosk is visible in the foreground, displaying text about the Permian Basin. The overall color scheme is blue and red.

The Energy Law curriculum at Texas Tech University School of Law enables students to learn the nuances of energy law from experts in the field. Students may also opt to complete a Concentration in Energy Law.

ENERGY LAW CONCENTRATION CURRICULUM

Six courses and a minimum of 15 hours are required, broken down into:

- One (1) Core Course
- At least four (4) Specialized Electives
- One (1) Capstone Core Course

Students are also required to meet the Experiential Requirement for the 2L and 3L years and an Advanced Writing Requirement in Energy Law.

CORE

Energy Law
Oil and Gas Law I
Wind Energy Law and Policy

Emerging Technologies Law
(Capstone Core Course)

SPECIALIZED ELECTIVES

Administrative Law
Admiralty and Maritime Law
Advanced Water Law
Agricultural Law
Climate Change Law and Policy
Energy Law
Environmental Law
Global Biosecurity Law
Law and Biotechnology
Law, Science and Environment
Law and Science Legal Research
NAFTA and Free Trade in the Americas

Nanotechnology Law and Policy
Oil and Gas Law I
Oil and Gas Law II
Public International Law
Space Law
Texas Administrative Practice
Texas Land Titles
Texas Mineral Titles
Water Law
Wind Energy Law and Policy

ENERGY LAW SHORT COURSES

Every Fall and Spring semester, the law school offers a one-credit hour short course over two weekends on an energy-related topic. Past course topics have included oil-and-gas lease negotiation, solar-energy law, mineral titles, and administrative practice before the Public Utility Commission of Texas.

A group of students wearing white hard hats are walking up a large, blue-painted industrial structure, which appears to be a wind turbine. The students are dressed in casual attire like t-shirts and jeans. The structure is made of heavy metal beams and has various cables and pipes attached. The background shows more of the structure and some greenery. The text "BEYOND THE CLASSROOM" is overlaid in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters.

BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

Many of our graduates embark on an energy practice, whether with a law firm, energy company, or other legal organization. Texas Tech Law gives students the opportunity to learn both the law and industry standards through a variety of experiences outside the traditional classroom.

ENERGY LAW LECTURE SERIES

Each year, the Energy Law Lecture Series features six prominent speakers who deliver policy-oriented presentations on topics of current interest. The lectures are approved for one hour of Texas CLE credit and are streamed live through the Texas Tech Law website. Past speakers include:

- Wayne Christian, Commissioner of the Railroad Commission of Texas
- Christi Craddick, Chairman of the Railroad Commission of Texas
- Drew Darby, State Representative/Chairman of the House Energy Resources Committee
- Alex Epstein, New York Times Best-Selling Author of The Moral Case for Fossil Fuels and Center for Industrial Progress President and Founder
- Allen Gilmer, Chairman, Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO) and President, Drillinginfo
- Russell Gold, Wall Street Journal senior energy reporter and author of The Boom: How Fracking Ignited the American Energy Revolution and Changed the World
- Corey Goulet, TransCanada's president of the Keystone XL Pipeline Project
- Hunter Hunt, CEO of Hunt Consolidated Energy
- Mark Mathis, filmmaker, speaker, author, consultant, including a screening of spOILed the night before at Alamo Drafthouse
- Phelim McAleer, Producer/Director, including a screening of FrackNation the night before at Alamo Drafthouse
- Shelby McCue '78, former land and compensation manager for ExxonMobil affiliate Esso Highlands Ltd.
- Donna Nelson '86, Chairman of the Public Utility Commission of Texas
- Carlos Ortiz, Mexico's director of information and energy studies at the Ministry of Energy
- Ryan Sitton, Commissioner of the Railroad Commission of Texas
- Mike Smith, Director of the Interstate Oil and Gas Compact Commission
- Todd Staples, President, Texas Oil & Gas Association (TXOGA)
- John Walker, CEO, EnerVest and Member, Texas Tech University Board of Regents
- Kathleen Hartnett White, Distinguished Senior Fellow and Director, Armstrong Center for Energy and the Environment and author of Fueling Freedom

NUTS & BOLTS SESSIONS

“Nuts-and-Bolts” sessions familiarize students with the practical applications of energy law. Six energy practitioners are invited each year to share valuable tips with the students on topics including title examination, oil-and-gas litigation, acquisitions and divestitures, oil-and-gas lease negotiation, exploration-and-production issues, and surface-owner challenges.

- Nick Brock '06 (Chevron)
- Richard Brown (Brown & Fortunato)
- Greg Curry '89 (Thompson & Knight)
- Stephanie Hall '97 (Valero Energy)
- Scott Kidwell '92 (Concho Resources)
- David Lauritzen (Cotton, Bledsoe, Tighe & Dawson)
- Curtis Leonard '79 (ICA Energy)
- Jon Platt '09 (Baker Botts)
- Stephen Robertson '07 (Permian Basin Petroleum Association)
- George Snell (Steptoe & Johnson)
- John Stretcher '12 (Legacy Reserves)
- Brian Sullivan (McElroy Sullivan & Miller)
- Barry Thomas '88 (Pioneer Natural Resources)
- Lauren Valastro '12 (Kelley, Drye)
- Philip Weems '82 (King & Spalding – retired)

SATURDAY MORNING SITE VISIT

Each semester, on a scheduled Saturday morning, students have the opportunity to tour a local oil-and-gas facility and become more familiar with field equipment and operations.

MIDLAND FIELD TRIP

Each semester, students have the opportunity to travel to Midland on a field trip to learn more about the oil-and-gas industry, an energy-law practice, and the Midland-Odessa legal community and business market.

WIND FARM FIELD TRIP

Students have the opportunity to tour an area wind farm, inspect wind turbines, and learn how wind-energy companies manage these operations.

ENERGY LAW INTEREST GROUP

The Energy Law Interest Group is one of the largest student-run organizations at Texas Tech Law. Through membership, students are able to participate in various energy-law related events and activities throughout the year. They are made aware of exclusive opportunities that are related to the energy-law practice.

The background of the page is a photograph of an exhibit hall. In the foreground, a group of people, mostly young adults, are standing and looking towards the right. The hall is filled with various informational displays. Notable signs include: "Out of Oil and Will Be Dry by 1935" in large bold letters; "The energy future is bleak chronic scarcity..." on a yellow sign; "TEMPORARY & VANISHING phenomenon" on a yellow sign; "GAS BOOM" on a blue sign; "OPEC Member Warns of MAJOR ENERGY CRISIS" on a blue sign; and "The Wait so long..." on a sign at the top. The lighting is bright, typical of an indoor exhibition space.

IN THE PROFESSION

Texas Tech Law's Energy Law Advisory Group is made up of alumni who meet to discuss relevant issues and enhancements to the Energy Law Program. The Advisory Group members serve as general counsel, practitioners, section heads, and owners of exploration-and-production companies.

Craig Adams '92 – Matador Resources
Doug Atnipp '85 – Winston & Strawn LLP
Charles Boettcher '99 – Waste Management, Inc.
David Copeland '82 – SM Energy Company
Michael Cuda '91 – K&L Gates LLP
Greg Curry '89 – Thompson & Knight LLP
Mike Curry '89 – Henry Resources, LLC
Mike Denham '99 – Quantum Energy Partners
Dan Fergus '83 – Fergus & Fergus, L.L.P.
Justin Furnace '04 – Hilcorp Energy Company
Mark Griffin '79 – Rip Griffin Companies
Stephanie Hall '97 – Valero Energy
Scott Kidwell '92 – Concho Resources
Jeff King '87 – K&L Gates LLP
Kiersten Kita '05 – HollyFrontier Corporation
Carol Leach '78 – Concho Resources
Curtis Leonard '79 – ICA Energy, Inc.
Cottie Miles '97 – Martin & Drought, P.C.
Hon. Donna Nelson '86 – Public Utility Commission of Texas (Retired)
Jill Pennington '98 – Davis, Gerald & Cremer
Jon Platt '09 – Baker Botts LLP
David Poole '88 – Range Resources
Todd Spake '96 – Kelly, Hart & Hallman LLP
Corey Wehmeyer '06 – Santoyo Moore Wehmeyer P.C.
Ty Wood '06 – Ty J. Wood, Attorney at Law, PLLC

FOR MORE INFORMATION, PLEASE CONTACT:

William R. Keffer
Professor of Practice
Director of Energy Law Programs
Texas Tech University School of Law
3318 18th Street
Lubbock, TX 79409-0004
(806) 834-3178 · william.keffer@ttu.edu

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY

School of Law™

3311 18th St. · Lubbock, Texas 79409-0004

